Disbursements

Disbursements are the third parties expenses related to your matter, for example, search fees, Land Registry registration fee. In addition to the disbursements noted above, if there is a management company in place that deals with the management of the estate which the property is situated, the seller's solicitors will usually provide us with the management information and this will set out certain disbursements specifically relating to the property. The most common disbursements which we anticipate will apply are set out below:

- Notice of Assignment fee – You may require to serve notice to the management company to inform the change of ownership following completion. Often the fee is between £150.00 - £300.00;
- Notice of Charge fee - If the property is to be mortgaged, you may require to serve notice to the management company to notify them of the mortgage. Often the fee is between £150.00 - £300.00;
- Deed of Covenant fee – The management company may require you to enter into a Deed of Covenant. The Deed of Covenant is usually issued by the management company, their fee can be difficult to estimate, but it often is between £180.00 - £300.00;
- Certificate of Compliance fee – Similar to Deed of Covenant, if required, the management company may issue a Certificate of Compliance following completion, their fee can range between £180.00 - £300.00

Please note, the above list is non-exhaustive and there could be other disbursements. We will confirm the disbursements upon receipt of the management information from seller's solicitors.

You should be aware that the above are estimation only as these fees can vary from property to property. Occasionally, these could be significantly more than the ranges given above. We can give you an accurate figure once we have sight the specific documents.

Please also be aware that if there is a management company, service charge are likely to apply throughout your ownership of the property. We will confirm the anticipated service charge as soon as we receive this information.

Stamp Duty/Land Tax

The amount of Stamp Duty/Land Tax payable depend on various factors, such as the purchase price, if you or your spouse have an interest in another property following completion. You can calculate the amount you will need to pay by using HMRC's website:

Key stages of the process

The precise stages involved in the purchase of a residential freehold property vary according to the circumstances. However, below we have set out the most common key stages:

- We receive your instructions and give you initial advice;
- We provide you with our client care pack which includes the initial documentation for you to complete;
- You return the completed initial documentation and signed client care letter to us;
- Check finances are in place to fund the purchase and contact lender's solicitors if needed;
- We receive the contract documents and management information pack (if applicable) from seller's solicitors and we advise you on the same;

- We conduct searches;
- Obtain further planning documentation if required
- Make any necessary enquiries of seller's solicitors;
- Report to you on all documents, information and replies to enquiries received;
- Send final contract to you for signature;
- Draft transfer and send to the sellers solicitor for approval and send final transfer to you for signature (if applicable);
- Obtain pre-completion searches;
- We liaise with you and seller's solicitors for a completion date;
- Arrange for all monies needed to be received from lender and you;
- We exchange contracts and notify you that this has happened;
- Complete the purchase;
- We serve notice of transfer and/or mortgage to the management company (if applicable);
- We file the Stamp Duty/Land Tax return and make payment on your behalf if applicable;
- We submit an application for registration at Land Registry;
- Report to you with completed registration and forward any title deeds and documents

How long will it take?

The amount of time it will take to complete your purchase will depend on various factors. The average process takes between 8-12 weeks, however, you should be aware that this timescale is purely an estimate and it could take shorter or longer depends on the circumstance of the transaction. For example, if you are a first time buyer purchasing a property from a seller without an onward chain and the mortgage offer is in place, it could take less than 12 weeks to complete the purchase. In contrast, if you are purchasing a leasehold property from a seller with an onward chain, this can take significantly longer.

Who will carry out the work?

The work will be carried out by one of the member from our conveyancing team, Mr. Xiaolin Ma, the firm's director and a qualified solicitor, will be the supervisor on each matter.

Our fee assumes that:

- a) this is a standard transaction and that no unforeseen matters arise including for example (but not limited to) a defect in title which requires remedying prior to completion or the preparation of additional documents ancillary to the main transaction;
- b) the transaction is concluded in a timely manner and no unforeseen complication arise;
- c) all parties to the transaction are co-operative and there is no unreasonable delay from third parties providing documentation;
- d) no indemnity policies are required. Additional disbursements may apply if indemnity policies are required;
